Annual Writing Contest Submission Entry Form

Dear students, parents, guardians, foster parents, principals, teachers, and anyone else who interacts with the children of our community:

All Antelope Valley students in grades 1-12 plus college students are invited to enter our freestyle writing and art contest.

For 2017, Yes2Kids invites you to enter in one or both of the two options discussed in the flyer to make the AV a child-abuse-free zone. Yes2Kids wants the Antelope Valley to be known for having found the magic words that help prevent child abuse. We encourage residents to help end child abuse in all its forms and layers. Find those magic words that will help a person stop and think before they act. Successful campaign examples are: "You can prevent forest fires" ® "I'm loving it" ® "Just do it" ® and "Taste the Rainbow" ®. These are some ideas you can think about when writing for this year's contest. We look forward to receiving your entries and hope to see you at the awards celebration!
